Course Outlines

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, a learner should be able to:

1. Describe the main differences between microscopic, uniportal and biportal endoscopic surgery
2. Select the proper indications and limitation of applying the biportal intralaminar approach
3. Recognize the relevant surgical anatomy and key landmarks
4. Determine the appropriate OR set-up and patient positioning for the technique
5. Associate the correct procedural steps for lateral recess decompression for lumbar stenosis
6. List the most typical complications management strategies for biportal endoscopic surgery
7. Demonstrate appropriate motor skills and hand-eye coordination to perform the procedure safely.

Target Audiences

Surgeons who are familiar and confident in performing MIS techniques and are looking to enhance surgical outcomes and their patients' experience by transitioning to Biportal Endoscopic surgery.

Pre-Course
